

The Elixir of Life
is a mythical compound, of course.
OUR...
Beef, Iron and Wine
comes as near to it as anything we know of. It strengthens the digestion and nerves by making pure red blood. We don't know of anything better for debilitated men and women.

It is not a "cure all," but it goes to work in nature's way to strengthen every organ in the body.
It is 50c a bottle, and there is just 50c worth of medicine in each bottle.

MUND O. DEWEY, EDITOR.

OWOSSO, FRIDAY, JUNE 11, 1897.

Next Monday the people of the city and county are requested by the Michigan Society of the Sons of American Revolution to display the national colors from public buildings, business places and residences, in recognition of national flag day, the 120th anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes as our national banner. We hope to see a general observance of the day.

The farmer is equally interested with the mechanic in the protection of his home market. The value of the home market to the farmer is nowhere shown any more conclusively and the democratic free-trade assertions more conclusively proven untrue than by the United States treasury statistical abstract. The consumption of our farm products by our people reached its maximum in 1892. Passing over 1863, the year of the panic, and taking 1894, it shows that more than 51 per cent more pounds of our raw cotton were consumed by our own people in 1892 under the republican tariff than in the year 1894 under the threat of a democratic free-trade tariff; that more than 73 per cent more wheat was consumed by our people in 1892 than in 1894, that more than 33 per cent more corn was consumed by our own people in 1892 than in 1894, that more than 33 per cent more pounds of wool were consumed in 1892 than in 1894.—Hon. J. H. Walker, M. C., of Massachusetts.

The August number of The Outlook will be its annual educational number. It will contain several features of special interest to teachers and students. One of these will be an illustrated paper by Professor Todd, of Amherst College, on modern methods of astronomical work, with special reference to the trip made by Professor Todd and his party to Japan for the purpose of observing the last eclipse of the sun. Rodolph Lanciani, the famous archaeologist, has written for The Outlook a peculiarly interesting article on Modern Rome, which will be profusely and beautifully illustrated from photographs furnished by the author. Miss Susan E. Blow, perhaps the highest American author on the kindergarten, will write on the subject. Professor A. C. Lane writes on Religion among Men of Science; Rev. E. Ross, on Educational Functions in the Church; and other distinguished writers will treat various important educational problems.—$3.00 a year, The Outlook Company, 13 Astor Place, New York.

The Pontiac Gazette speaks as follows of the work of one of our Owosso boys: The withdrawal of F. E. Converse from the superintendency of the Pontiac city schools, was not only a surprise to our citizens generally, but a matter of sincere regret to many. He has been connected with the Pontiac schools seven years, during which the schools have grown so that the average membership is now 1,200 as against 805 seven years ago, and the average attendance in the high school has increased 50 per cent.  The character of the work done has been recognized by the University authorities, who have inspected the high school twice during the past six years, reporting very favorably, continuing the school on the diploma list in all courses, each time, for the full term of three years. The grade work has also been improved gradually. As educational ideas have advanced—the work of the primary grades especially has been changed in spirit and method in accordance with more recent ideas affecting the teaching of children. On the whole, the truth is generally accepted by those who have been most interested and have watched the work, so far as conditions permitted, that the schools are in a flourishing condition and abreast of the times. It will be exceedingly gratifying to his friends, to know that Mr. Converse has been tendered the superintendency of the schools in Beloit, Wis., and will have charge of 40 teachers, including three public kindergartens.

The supreme court in a recent decision in a case brought by the assessor of Detroit to determine whether he had the power to assess the property of benevolent and charitable societies, held that the property of the Masonic Temple association, the Harmonic society and the Arbeiter society is not exempt from taxation. They do not come within sub division 4 of section 7, of act 200. It is not enough, in order to exempt such associations from taxation, that one of the direct or indirect purposes, or results in benevolence, charity, education or the promotion of science. They must be organized chiefly, if not solely, for one or more of these objects.

Justly Praised.

The Bay City Tribune of the 2d inst., refers to the state auditor general's office in the following complimentary manner: "Auditor General Dix has made a wonderful record during his brief incumbency of the important office to which he was elected last fall. Mr. Dix devotes all his time to the work of his office. Painstaking, methodical, conscientious, he has already saved the people thousands of dollars. Mr. Dix will doubtless be renominated by acclamation in 1898."

High School and University.

In answer to some inquiries concerning the relations between high school and University at Ann Arbor, we will say that a committee from the University visited our high school in May, 1896, with the result that we were continued upon the list of diploma schools for 1896, 1897, and 1898.

In the recently issued University calendar for 1896-97, on page 92, can be found the statement concerning the Owosso high school. It will also be noticed that of the 152 diploma schools, all relations as made at present, expire on or before 1898. Examinations are usually held at intervals of three years.

Upon entering the University, in addition to the diploma, applicants from all diploma schools must present a certificate from superintendent or principal, stating that they have sustained their examinations in all studies and are recommended for admission to the University. This is required of all schools and can be found on page 49 of the calendar of the University. Our diplomas admit to all courses except the classical, that requiring Greek in preparation, which is not taught here.

The University last year made a new departure by announcing that thereafter no more graduates from any high school English course would be received on diploma, as they had decided to require four years of preparatory Latin, or two years of Latin and two years of either German or French. Our high school furnishes that amount of preparatory language in either its Scientific or Latin courses. On page 39 of the University calendar, it says that accredited graduates of the English course may be admitted as special students with the right of making up the additional requirements in language. In a recent letter from President Angell, he states that as a number of schools did not receive the notice of change in requirements in proper time, the University will continue to admit graduates from the English course, during the fall of 1897.

The reception tendered Rev. W. S. Ament and wife (who returned last Friday from China) at the Congregational church, Wednesday evening, was an unusually pleasant event. The church parlors had been made very attractive by flowers, plants, etc., and the two hundred persons present were made at once to feel at home. The guests were welcomed by Mrs. L. E. Gould and Rev. J. C. Cromer, who presented them to Mr. and Mrs. Ament. Mrs. E. H. Ament and Mrs. J. C. Cromer, also, assisted in receiving. The cordiality of the welcome home certainly assured both Mr. and Mrs. Ament that they have a warm place in the hearts of their Owosso friends.

About 5 o'clock, Tuesday morning, fire was discovered in the kitchen of Miss Alma Marshall's residence, 208 W. King St., occupied by A. D. Willoughby and family, and Miss Marshall. Mr. W., after building a fire in the kitchen stove, returned to the front part of the house, and shortly after, when Mrs. Willoughby went into the kitchen, flames had gained considerable headway, and practically destroyed the rear part of the house before the fire department gained control. As soon as the fire was discovered Miss Marshall was aroused and carefully carried to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Jacobs, where she has since been cared for. Notwithstanding her age and feeble condition, she has recovered from the excitement without serious injury. A good share of Mr. Willoughby's household goods were saved, yet his loss will be heavy. There was no insurance on the house or the goods, and the loss will be a heavy one both for "Aunt" Marshall and Mr. Willoughby.

Death From an Injury.

J. B. Heir, living east of the city on Main street, met with an accident, Monday, which cost him his life. He had hitched up his team, one of them a colt, and started for his wood lot to draw a load of wood, when the horses became frightened and ran away. After running a short distance one of the wheels of the wagon struck a tree and Mr. Heir was thrown a number of feet into the air, the fall breaking several ribs, one of his wrists, injuring his lungs and otherwise badly bruising him. Dr. McCormick was at once summoned and did everything possible for him, but to no avail, except to alleviate his sufferings. He died yesterday morning.

Mr. Heir was one of the old and highly respected citizens of the county, having resided for many years in Middlebury, previous to moving to the present family residence. His age was 77 years. A wife and several children will mourn his death.

Hires Root Beer Cannot be Imitated. It is doubtful if any modern commodity, except money, has been counterfeited more than Hires Rootbeer. By progressive and costly advertising this article has attained a trade-mark peculiar to itself, and its wide popularity and immense sale is an irresistible attraction for the unscrupulous imitator. Justice, however, is beginning to realize that the public must be protected from such practices as is evinced by the decision just rendered by Judges Finletter and Gordon in Philadelphia, Court of Common Pleas No. 3, restraining George A. Hires, a namesake of Mr. Charles E. Hires, from manufacturing and selling a preparation under the name of Hires Rootbeer. This is a move in the right direction, as this superior article should not be substituted by inferior stuff.
